Explains Bluntly To Deputies; Then Quits

PARIS, January 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Briand submitted his resignation to President Millerand at the Elysee palace today, after making a lengthy statement before the chamber of deputies, justifying his attitude at the Cannes conference.

Premier Briand put the Anglo-French pact, the question of postponement of German reparations, and French participation in the Genoa conference squarely up to the Genoa conference, in the bluntest terms, to take them or leave them.

All was not going well in the Rodham household. It began to be evident after the first kewpie found his way in. And when young Mrs. Rodham began lying abed till noon, and the living room began to look like a cabaret, there was no longer any doubt of it. Jazz had come in his clutches. And when Jazz enters by the door, love flies out of the window. You will laugh until you weep at the carryings-on of these newly-weds. TRAIN HITS MEAT WAGON; DEMOLISHES IT

The rattle of his meat wagon was so loud this morning that it drowned out the noise made by an approaching N. & W. train, and when Frank Gerlach, a driver for George Jacobs, Eleventh street butcher, saw the train, it was too late to get out of its path. The train demolished the wagon, scattered meat over the street and knocked the horse down, but it was not seriously injured as no bones were broken. Gerlach, who was on the rear step of the wagon, jumped and was not injured.

He had a close call, as the wagon was almost reduced to splinters. Gerlach lives on Twelfth street. N. & W. officials are investigating the accident.

Home From Convention
Judge N. B. Gilliland returned Wednesday night from Columbus, where he attended the annual session of the State Association of Probate Judges held in the Capital City Tuesday and Wednesday. There was a big attendance and some interesting addresses and discussions were heard during the meeting.

Moore To Be Tried

Oscar R. Moore, former head real estate agent and dry detective, will be placed on trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Friday morning under an indictment for alleged obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with the sale of an option held by Walter E. Yost, also a former real estate agent, on the property of Mrs. Catherine Binder. It is claimed that by making certain alleged false representations Moore aided Yost in obtaining $150 from Mrs. Binder for returning the option. Yost was tried and convicted by a jury in Common Pleas court some months ago and he was sentenced to the penitentiary. He is expected to be brought here to testify in the trial of Moore, who will be defended by Attorneys Miller and Seale. Prosecutor Sheppard will handle the prosecution for the state.

Demurrer Overruled

Court of Appeals in a written opinion received Thursday by the clerk of courts overruled the demurrer of the defendant in the case of Walter R. Knapp against E. W. Smith, former sheriff, and leave is given to the answer on or before February 15. This is an action by Knapp for the specific performance of a contract for the sale of his home in Kinney's Lane, and the case is in the Appellate court on appeal by the defendant from the finding in favor of the plaintiff made by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court. Judges Munk and Seale concurred in the opinion. Attorneys Blair and Blair for Knapp and Attorney E. E. Kinde for Smith.

Phillips Charged Plea

When Ernest Phillips, 39 years old, Pullerton young man, appeared in Common Pleas court Thursday morning for trial under an indictment charging highway robbery, he was allowed by consent of the court and prosecutor to change his plea from not guilty to guilty of the lesser offense of assault and battery and Judge Thomas imposed a penalty of "three fine and costs and six months in jail." The fact that young Phillips is a former soldier and now taking vocational training at Chillicothe prompted the court to give him another chance and the jail sentence was suspended. Phillips was accused with a young man named Kenneth Lambdin of holding up Richard Benson in the North End on the night of Nov. 19 and robbing him of thirty cents. By reason of his age Lambdin was presented in Juvenile court, where he was convicted and fined $10 and costs. Phillips was represented by Attorneys E. E. Pullerton of Greenup and Thos. K. Pook of this city.

Wife Seeks Divorce
Alleging cruelty and declaring that she can no longer live with him because of his abuse and mistreatment,

Sylvia Bumgardner, Tenth and Washington streets, seeks a divorce and alimony with custody of their four year old child, instituted in Common Pleas court Thursday against Robert Bumgardner, whom she married in April, 1913.

In her bill of complaint filed through Attorney Harry Ball the plaintiff alleges that Bumgardner has frequently beat and assaulted her and claims that by reason of such assaults she left him last September but says she later took him back on his promise, to treat her better. She now declares he was untrue to his promise as she says that on Dec. 21 he slapped and kicked her, and on New Year's day struck her viciously and blacked her eye. The defendant's present address is the county jail where he is serving a sentence imposed by the Municipal court for beating his wife. The plaintiff is a showworker.

Wife Charges Cruelty; Seeks Divorce
Gertrude Itagan, 529 Third street, charges cruelty in her suit for divorce and custody of their minor child, now four years old, filed in Common Pleas court Thursday against Wesley Itagan, 619 Officers street, whom she married in December, 1916.

In her petition filed through Attorney Harry Ball the plaintiff complains that Itagan unjustly finds fault and complains of her in her household duties, persistently and falsely accuses her of familiarity with other men, calls her foul names and declares that he has struck her in an angry manner on at least two occasions, besides, she asserts, he has been heartless and cruel in the sacred family relations. She claims that by reason of his mistreatment she has been compelled to leave the defendant and no longer lives with him. The plaintiff is employed in running an elevator in a local department store. She secured a temporary injunction restraining Itagan from disturbing of her household goods.

COMMITTEE MAKES FAVORABLE REPORT

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12—Recommendations for the purchase of 25,000 acres of land in Scioto and Adams counties under the terms of the Atwood act is made by the Legislative Committee on Conservation, which was named under the resolution of Senator G. E. Kryder, of Henry.

The price suggested to be paid for the land is $5 an acre. The committee thinks that funds should be guarded carefully "and there should be no hesitancy in filing condemnation proceedings where the owners of such lands desire to hold the state for a larger sum than these lands are worth."

The committee recommends that the $50,000 appropriated by the Silver law be used to purchase 10,000 acres contiguous to the tracts in Scioto and Adams counties for reclamation.

Lands for game preserves can be reforested and lands bought for reforestation can also be used for game preserves, it is stated. It is recommended that the State Forester have complete jurisdiction to prevent fires.

TEN TRACKS IN CIRCUIT

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 12--Ten half mile tracks now constitute the Ohio Short Ship Trotting Circuit as the result of seven Ohio tracks bidding from the Lake Erie circuit after a stormy session here yesterday over the assignment of dates. Five tracks--Rockport, Berea, Akron, Canton and Cranwood, which formerly made up the shore ship--also held membership in the Lake Erie. Others to bid were Flat lay and Marion, Grove City, Sandusky and North Randall half mile track, also are new additions.

The withdrawal of the seven tracks leaves only three Ohio reports in the Lake Erie circuit--Columbus and the North Randall mile and half mile tracks. Despite the date assignments, the racing program of the Cleveland district is uncertain. Indications are that Rockport, which did not operate last season because of the prohibition of betting, will be the favorite village in the West Park, in which closed betting will not be permitted. It also developed that the Cranwood track would be cut up into building lots. An official of a real estate company said that no authority had been given to race, adding that he knew of no change in the plans to discontinue that track.

The Lake Erie schedule opens with a week's meeting at the North Randall half mile track June 5 and closes at the same track the week of October 16. Columbus gets the week of July 13. Grove City drew the opening date in the short ship circuit, being assigned the week of May 13. The season is scheduled to close the week of August 21 at Berea.

Herbert Carter was given the Pilgrim Degree at the regular meeting of Purity Castle, Knights of Golden Eagle last night. It was announced that the local degree team would have the honor of conferring degree work on a large class of candidates for the new Castle at Oak Hill Saturday night January 21. District Grand Chief P. G. Carter of Scioto County will lead the local degree team. Three degrees will be conferred on forty candidates. The new Castle was organized January 9th.

Miss Dolly Wise

Miss Wise—I know of a good many disrespectful things about a certain married man. Do you think I should tell his wife? Please advise. F. R. I wouldn't tell. If she doesn't know it now, she will soon find it out. She probably would not thank you for the information any way.

Dear Miss Wise—To settle an argument, please give the date of the sinking of the Jacob Jones, and the length of time her crew was in the water before being picked up. THANK YOU. I have no records on this vessel.

Dear Miss Wise—To settle an argument, please give the date of the sinking of the Jacob Jones, and the length of time her crew was in the water before being picked up. THANK YOU. I have no records on this vessel.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me how many murders have been committed in this county since October 21st. WHEELERSBURG READER. There have been six murders since the date mentioned and their names have been published many times during the past few weeks.

Dear Miss Dolly—I am a blonde and being thoroughly disgusted with wearing hats over my ears I am writing to ask you what to do to keep my hair in curl without harming it. I have been putting it in every night in electric curlers but it does not last until morning. What will make it stay put until evening? GRACE. Your hair must be the kind that does not hold the curl well, no matter how you put it in. You are using the way that is least harmful to it and I would advise you to keep on with it. A little gum arabic solution will help to keep it curly longer.

Dear Miss Dolly—I am a young man of 25 and engaged to be married in the spring, but I'm not sure whether wedding will come off on schedule or not as my wife is very indolent. Last evening I refused to take her to New York on a honeymoon. She says she has always wanted to go to New York and always planned to go when we get married and now it is up to me to take her. Dolly, I have no objection to taking her to New York, and I would like to go myself, but I can't afford to. I have been saving my money to go to housekeeping, and if I blow it in $200 or $300 on a trip to New York I will throw my clear off my feet and I never will get back again. She has been talking New York ever since we became engaged but I didn't like the idea. I can't take her. Now that the time is drawing near, something must be done. How can I break the news to her and what excuse will I give for not making the trip? WORRIED MAN. You have done the girl a grave injustice by not being open and above board in the matter of your income. You have been deceitful in this and when she learns the truth, it may shut her out of the trust that she has placed in you. It seems to me that this is worse than foolishly, for almost upon the shadow of your income, you give good cause for embarrassment to the girl whom you have promised to love. Long ago, when you first became engaged you should have told her your income, so that she could know just how to plan for your future. Now if you cannot afford to go to New York, you can't, and that is final, and you must tell her so now. She will then be able to talk over what is

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Kiddies, I can't understand a tenth of them. Can you help?"

THE cook-stove lay perfectly still for a minute, then slowly sat up. "I'll say that was fast talking," she said. "Where are you?" "You're up in the sky," said Nancy. "Are you hurt?"

The stove lay down with a groan. "Sky!" he groaned. "Sky! Then I must be a stove-skull. I, stove I grow wings next."

"Oh, no," Nansky hurried to assure him. "You're all right. You're not an angel. You're in Fairyland, not in Heaven. The wind blew you up here."

"Same thing?" groaned the stove. "They don't cut either place, and much as I'll be, no more bakings of bread, no more brown gravy for the children, no more lemon pies, no more mashed potatoes, no more—"

"You mustn't fret so bad," said Nick. "We'll take care of you. Can't we send him home, Mr. Jaskins?"

"Sure," said Nick, taking out a note book. "We'll take the name and address of your owner, Mr. Stove."

And so you back as good as new. But you'll have to excuse me a minute now. I hear more things coming."

There were poppins and crashings everywhere as more and more objects large and small burst through the door, or ground. I should say, of Emphyland. Chintzies, plops, chickens, cats, chickens, pigs, geese, ant-mobles, brooms, trees and almost everything in the dictionary, including family washings. It was, indeed, no longer Emphyland, but the Land of Everything.

Nansky went from one poor object to another, taking names down in his book. By and by he came back. "Kiddies, I can't understand a tenth of them. Can you help?"

"Of course we can," laughed Nancy, holding up the charm the Mushroom had given her. "Anything from Fij to Chibee."

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER LXXV—DICK EXPLAINS HIS DISAPPEARANCE

"A" Nt you decided not to write to me?" So I reproached Jimmy.

"How could I do otherwise?" Mrs. Scott, you see that I couldn't. I had no profession—not a dollar of my own. Not even a clean name to offer her! Moreover, my future belonged to my father! It was up to his son to pay off his creditors!"

"I agree with you, Jimmy," said Motherhead, "but I guess yours is not the business ethics of your time, dear boy."

"Since I was mortgaged indefinitely to my father, I could not remain May of my existence. I caught the ship as my father had planned. May and my dad contended for first place in my mind during my voyage."

"When I reached London, my uncle handed me a card, New York attorneys informed him that my father was bankrupt. A second card that he was dead. A third, that I had disappeared."

"The news of my father's suicide paralyzed me. For I knew at once that he had deliberately driven his car over the edge of the quarry. You can see that I wanted to be alone to think things out for myself."

"I refused to go to my uncle's house. In a London hotel, I stayed awake all night and figured out why my father had tricked me."

"He sent you away to keep you from being connected with his mysterious death?" ventured Motherhead.

"To free me from any responsibility for the affair. I usually drove the car, heathed being his own chauffeur. I knew the town—and so did he. People would say that I had run off with what I could by my hands on—and that the car—did not go over the cliff by accident."

"The townsperson never would guess that your father sent you away because he intended to take his own life!" exclaimed Motherhead. "Why didn't you return, Jimmy, and explain?"

"Did I care what the gossip thought and said?" Not I! And what else was there to come back to? The business was in the hands of a committee of my father's creditors. There was May to return to, but I had nothing to offer her."

"Your uncle—why did he not help you?"

"My uncle is a very successful man who despises failures. I and my father were failures to him. After a sleepless night in the London hotel I checked out and disappeared. I wandered hopelessly, aimlessly, like a soldier suffering from shell shock."

"I had been trained for a profession. I was to inherit my father's interests. One evening I wandered into a cinema palace. I wanted to forget. If only for an hour."

"And there it occurred to me that I could support myself in the movies. I had made a hit as the villain in more than one college play. I took the part, you know, May."

"I can't see that you do."

"I touched my handaged lids and we three laughed gaily as people do, over nothing when their nerves are on edge."

Hiking Days Will Soon Be Here

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK For hiking days, which by the way will soon be here, it must be something soft and wind-defying. With possibly a scarf to match. Both hats and scarfs are ready things.

This clever Ponch sport hat is of the softest felt, smartly appliqued. The applique is in velvet with chenille stems, quite a different idea for hats.

The colors are quite properly the earthy tones, a glint of brown and gray and green.

The hat itself is a dull brown gray. The applique has a tone of green with hints of gray and brown.

The Ponch scarf is gray with a cast of brown in the lines.

Wondrous Beauty of Flowers. What a desolate place would be a world without a flower! It would be a face without a smile, a feast without a welcome. Are not flowers the stars of the earth and are not our stars the flowers of heaven?—Mrs. Baltimore.

Today in Jack Quinn and Lo Lo Chee. The most brilliant musical comedy success of the season. Your only opportunity to see this show. A rhythmic riot for the five sort of people who never grow old, and never expect to. The clatter of clatter and clatter and clatter of funny comedians, laughs, gales, and rushes. We enter especially to ladies and children. A happy mood like feature novelty act. Dorothy Dalton spent several days with the leading Fifth Avenue night-dishes obtaining costumes which she wears in "L'Apprenti," her latest dramatic picture produced by Thomas H. Ince shown in addition to the musical comedy. They are the last word in style and costly material. Miss Dalton has two strikingly contrasted roles in "L'Apprenti." A French Apache dancing girl and an American business woman whose life has been ruined.

The special features will be 25 in gold to be given away tonight and a Mamma view which will be the prize on Friday night. Special prices for every child Saturday matinee.

FELT RAILS SPREADING; YELLED TO CREW TO JUMP HIGHWAYMAN FIRES AT OTWAY DRIVER

"Oh, I am feeling pretty good, but I am hurt worse than I first thought," groaned Louis Perry of Russell, 1614 a house man in Mercy hospital, today. He was injured in the C. & O. N. wreck south of Sciotoville Wednesday morning.

When I felt the rails spreading, I yelled to Caldwell and Callahan to jump, but it occurred so quickly that they did not have a chance. I opened the throttle to permit the steam to escape, so the boiler would not explode and that is the last thing I remember until they picked me up near the wreck scene," Mr. Perry said today. "We were three minutes late and were making up some of the time when the accident occurred. It seemed to me as if the whole train was slipping and I knew in an instant just what was taking place. When the cab of the engine became filled with steam I felt that poor Gerald Callahan and Harry Caldwell would be scalded to death. They were my life long friends."

In addition to injuries about the head and shoulders, Perry suffered several broken ribs, an X-ray examination showed today.

According to reports from Otway, Days Watson, well known citizen of that town and driver of the Standard Oil wagon which operates out of the village, had an exciting experience with a hold highwayman who attempted to hold up and rob him on a lonely road, near the Jones school house between Otway and Waverlyville.

Watson was returning home late at night from a trip to the Blue Creek vicinity delivering oil when he was fired upon from ambush, two bullets whizzing past his head and perforated the covering over the driver's seat. The horses pulling the tank wagon, frightened by the pistol shots, started on a wild gallop and Watson jumped from the vehicle on the opposite side from whence the shots came and succeeded in stopping the runaway steeds a quarter mile down the road.

He claims he only got a glimpse of the would-be bandit who disappeared in the darkness after his intended victim jumped off the wagon and before he could secure his revolver which was under the driver's seat, Watson at the time had in his possession considerable money, representing the collections he had made during the day.

These officers with Vallee Harold, J. M. Wendelken, F. B. M. Corson and Alex. Gledner complete the directorate. The company had a very satisfactory year and declared the usual six per cent semi-annual dividend.

Directors of the First National Bank organized Thursday by re-electing the same staff of officers. Sheng Labadie was chosen as president; A. M. Danahy, vice president; Dan W. Croy, cashier, and C. E. Nodder, assistant cashier.

and he expressed the belief that the attempt to rob him was made by some one who knew he had the money.

Sheriff Rickey Is Considerably Improved

Sheriff E. K. Rickey, who last week was assaulted by Louis Merzhon, who has been held to the grand jury with out bail, was considerably better today. He tried to get up today but was forced to return to his bed. However he expects to be at his desk in his office in the next two or three days.

PETER KIMMLE IS FOUND DEAD IN CAMP

Peter C. Kimmle, well known in the West End, was found dead about two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Shady Brook Camp near Franklin Furnace. He had been living at the camp for about five years. A neighboring farmer who went to the camp yesterday afternoon to see the man did not find him about and on going into the house found the lifeless body. Coroner J. F. Hendrickson was called and he gave organic heart trouble as the cause of death.

Mr. Kimmle was born in this city November 23, 1857, and spent most of his life here. He worked at different meat markets in this city. Most of his life was spent in the West End, where he leaves a large number of friends. He moved to the camp about five years ago and had been caretaker there since.

He is survived by one sister, Mary Semmelbeck, and two nephews, John and Albert Semmelbeck.
The remains were brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. Semmelbeck, 918 Ninth street.
Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 8:30 with Rev. Father T. A. Goebel in charge. Burial in Greenlawn.

Sheriff And Prosecutor To Question Douglas

Prosecuting Attorney George W. Sheppard will confer with Sheriff Rickey tonight relative to Steve Douglas, aged 55, who still is being held at the county jail. He has been questioned about the murder of Henry Malone on the West Side, but the officials are inclined that he had nothing to do with it and probably he will be released tonight or Friday.

However, before he is given his freedom he will again be questioned closely by the officials.

Injuries Are Fatal To Claude Hartman

Injuries sustained by Claude T. Hartman, former well known young man of Lucasville, when the automobile in which he was riding was demolished by an N. & W. train at Lucasville December 23, resulted in his death at Hempstead hospital at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Death was due to an abscess of the brain. He had been living at Vigo, Ross county, O., and was visiting in Lucasville when injured in the automobile wreck. After a short time at the local hospital he was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Ray Mahaffey, 1647 Seventh street. Several days ago his condition took a change for the worse and he was removed to the hospital, where an operation was to be performed in an effort to save his life. Death claimed the injured man before the operation could be performed.

Mr. Hartman was 28 years of age. He was born at Wheelersburg, but most of his life was spent at Lucasville. His father, Thomas Hartman, was undertaker there for a number of years and several years before he moved to Vigo his son Claude became interested in the business and it was known as Hartman and Son. They continued in the undertaking business at Vigo.

On December 22 and 23 Mr. Hartman and Son visited relatives at Wheelersburg and on the 23, enroute home, stopped at the home of friends in Lucasville. Claude Hartman was driving to the Parly home there when his machine was struck by an N.

& W. train, Hartman starting to drive across the tracks after waiting for one train to pass.
He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carmen Hartman and a daughter, Claudine, aged three years. There are also, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hartman of Vigo, Ohio, and two sisters, Mrs. Ray Mahaffey of this city and Mrs. R. L. Fite of Buffalo, New York. Mrs. Fite arrived at the hospital in time to be with her brother there during the last few hours of his life.

The remains were taken to the home of an uncle, John Hartman, in Wheelersburg and the funeral services will be held from there Sunday afternoon, at one o'clock with burial in Wheelersburg cemetery.

ject of the Geneva conference.
"It is inadvisable," he said, "that France should be absent from this conference, which is purely financial and economic, especially when such a powerful financial and economic state as the United States, without whose cooperation is impossible, has agreed to participate."

"Do you wish France not to be represented there?" he asked. "If so, say so. I for my part wish France to take part."

Premier Briand in the course of his speech said the United States had agreed to participate in the Geneva conference.

M. Briand, after making his announcement, left the chamber alone. The members of the cabinet followed as soon as they had recovered from their surprise.

Groups of deputies and government officials speedily gathered in excited discussion of the seriousness of the situation, seeking a way out of the difficulty.

Moratorium For Germany
In handling the German moratorium question, Premier Briand said:

"You must make up your mind on that question—a moratorium for Germany. It is granted because France has no vote in it. If France had had the decision it never would have been considered, but thanks to the treaty of Versailles, Article 231, the reparations commission is empowered to grant delays and you may make up your mind, now that a majority of the reparations commission has agreed to grant a moratorium."

Premier Briand said the reparations commission had agreed to grant a moratorium for Germany on her reparations payments.

bitant prices charged for a room, if one were lucky enough to secure one. Hundreds of men, favored by the long continued mild winter, are sleeping on the grass along railroad tracks, public parking places, and in fact, anywhere they could, throughout a bed in a tent marked "A" place to be secured from 20 cents a night to $100 a night. In a crude plank structure where one didn't know his bed fellow, or the hundreds of others in the single room, cost $200. Prices charged for the few who were lucky enough to get in one of the few private dwellings.

Japs, Chinese Agree On The Rail Terms

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—An agreement was reached by the Chinese and Japanese when their shouting conversations were resumed today on the question of concessions for the building of extensions of the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway in the Kiachow leasehold.

LOCAL NEWS

Workmen were busy all of Wednesday afternoon and night putting in a new fill and putting down new track on the C. & O. N., where the bad wreck occurred Wednesday morning.

Part for the fill is being brought from Kentucky. A track has been built over the new fill and the wreck train was able to move slowly over the new track today. Heavy traffic will probably not use the track until next week.

Work of getting the engine back onto its wheels will not be carried on from the track on top of the fill. Road building officers of the C. & O. N. present Wednesday afternoon, decided that it would be best to move with the engine from a new track built near the bottom of the fill. A track about two hundred yards in length will have to be built on the west side of the fill. The engine will be probably the only thing salvaged. The badly wrecked coal cars and box cars will be left probably and a fill made over the top of them.

Brother Elders Honor Ramey

One of the best pleased and most surprised attendants at the prayer service at First Christian last evening was Elder J. N. Ramey, who for the past several years has served the church in the capacity of elder and who for some time has been preaching twice each month to churches in nearby parishes. It happened on this wise: Elder Ramey celebrated his golden wedding yesterday and according to his usual custom after the quiet celebration at his home, came to the prayer service in the evening little dreaming that there were others of his brother-elders thinking and planning to give him a complete surprise at that time.

As a fitting close to a splendid prayer meeting the elders were called together and after a short review of their work in the congregation and of Elder Ramey's life and achievements he was presented with a ten dollar gold coin as a token of love and reverence from his fellow-workers in the kingdom. He was speechless for the minute, so deeply had this touched him, but he found his voice soon and joined in the circle of prayer that followed and which closed the service.

Tune Up Piano For Orchestra

Choir Director, E. N. Fetter, has announced that the church piano in the beginners room is being tuned to up and put in shape for orchestra work and that the orchestra will begin practice in that room on Friday evening at the same time that choir is rehearsing in one of the other rooms. Tomorrow, Friday night, at the usual hour the choir will meet for their regular rehearsal and for the selection of special music for their evening's program on the last Sunday evening in the month. Mr. Fetter is very anxious that former members of the choir go in on this program and help to swell the chorus as there will be some more or less difficult music selected for this time.

The committee on music, consisting of L. L. Craden, Chester Kerr and E. N. Fetter, together with Choir Director Fetter will also have a conference Friday evening to discuss the plans and music for the choir during the year.

Scout Basketball

The Bay Scout basketball season is opening with more enthusiasm and a larger number of teams entered than ever before, twenty-two teams having entered altogether.

There are three leagues, the Bantam Boy Scout and Junior, for the large, small and middle sized Scouts.

Eleven teams have entered the race for the Bantam pennant. This is for Scouts 12 and 13 years old of any height, and older Scouts who are under 5 feet 2 inches. Each team will meet every other team once, and at the end of the season, the teams standing first and second, and the teams standing third and fourth will meet each other for the pennant. The teams appear very evenly matched and a good race is expected.

Seven teams have entered the Junior League. This league is for Scouts 15 and 16 of any height, and 16 year old Scouts under 5 feet 6 inches. Each team will meet the others twice, the four winners fighting it out in the Bantam League.

The Bay Scout League, for the largest Scouts, is composed of four teams, Troop 1, Troop 2, Troop 3 and Troop 4. Scouts of any age or height may play in this league, and each team may play one assistant scout master.

Schedules will be published weekly. The winning teams should report the time to the Scout executive, so as to receive credit for it. As it will be impossible for the Scout executive to be present at all the games, if any team feels that its opponent is playing a Scout that is over age or over height, the game should be played just the same, but played under protest, and the protest reported to the Scout executive the next day. If the Scout executive finds the rules have been violated the game will be forfeited or thrown out, as the case may be.

For the Bantam teams have the distinction of being captained by Eagle Scouts, Eagle Scout Gilbert, Edgar, captains the Nature Troop team and every member of his team is first class. Eagle Scout Donald Dever captained the Seaside Bantam team, Eagle Scout Cecil Morris is captain of Troop One's Bay Scout League team.

GREAT READJUSTMENT AND MID-WINTER CLEARANCE SALE

We have just finished taking inventory and results show that we are overstocked in various lines of merchandise we handle; also we have decided to discontinue some lines for good, which means only one of two things, either gather up all surplus and send it to Cincinnati or some other place to an auction house, let it bring what it will, which would be the quickest, or offer this surplus to the people of Portsmouth and vicinity at prices that we could figure this surplus would bring if we send it away. We have decided on the latter though it's the slower method, yet we feel that we will be repaid in the way of an everlasting advertisement for this sale will go down in

Loss Nears $100,000 Mark When Harsha Mill Burns

Firemen Suffer Greatly From Cold And Exposure; Women Serve Hot Coffee

Damage estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 was caused early this morning when fire completely destroyed the P. H. Harsha flour and feed mill on Eighth street at the head of Boundary, the fire being one of the most stubborn that the local firemen have had to fight since the big one that destroyed the Grand Opera House, Fourth and Chillicothe street.

Several firemen were injured and almost all suffered terribly from cold and exposure, water freezing on their raincoats and making them stiff as boards.

Jack Warden of the Seventh street engine company had to be removed home in an ambulance. Fire Chief Bob Leedom had to be taken to the East End station after several hours hard fighting of the flames. At Gerlach suffered a nasty cut in his left foot by a big mill. Bob Matthews suffered a cut hand and Jas. Riggs had his hand injured by the nozzle of a hose. The firemen have nothing but words of praise for the neighborhood women who prepared hot coffee and served it for several hours. Many times firemen had to give up the fight and go to a nearby home to thaw out so they could return to duty.

Flames Spread Quickly

Firemen say that water did not seem to have the least effect on the flames which quickly spread to every part of the three story brick building. Each floor was loaded with mill machinery and wheat, flour and feed, and all were quickly consumed. In addition to the main mill building a corn crib, shelter and elevator, and a storage barn in the rear were destroyed along with considerable corn in the shelter and sacked horse and cattle man in the storage barn. Several ear loads of flour and meal stored in a big frame building west of the main mill were saved, the high wind carrying the flames to the east.

Firemen say that had the wind shifted to the west the fire would have probably spread to the storage shed and from there to a row of about twelve houses on the north side of Eighth street which would have fallen quickly before the flames with a high wind blowing. The wagon and truck shed and hay shed of the flour mill were saved by firemen who kept streams of water on these structures.

The three story brick mill building had a slate roof which with the brick walls, enabled the firemen to hold the fire to the inside of the structure which was a seething furnace for about two hours.

Seven Streams On Fire

The firemen from all three stations with the help of the New Boston fire department kept seven streams of water on the fire, but despite the fact, there still were smoldering embers at nine o'clock this morning. One stream of water was being thrown at 10:30 this morning, smoke from the corn shelter indicating that a fire was smoldering in the mass of corn and corn cobs.

P. H. Harsha, head of the mill, is spending the winter in Florida. He was in Florida last year when frame property at Eighth and Broadway, owned by himself, was destroyed by fire. This is the third fire that has visited the mill property in the last few years. The stable was destroyed at one time and the fire barn another time. This was the first time the mill building proper had been visited by the flames. The big loss is partially covered by insurance. Howard Harsha, son of P. H. Harsha, stated this morning that he did not know just how much insurance was carried. Machinery in the engine room that was not damaged much by fire is almost a total loss for there are several feet of water in the room and this will damage the machinery during this freezing weather.

The fire started about 12:15 this morning. D. H. Johnson, night watchman, was making his rounds of the plant when he discovered it in the eastern part of the building. The flames shooting up the side of the wall just over the boiler room. Mr. Johnson had been to the second floor and then to the rear of the building and was on his way to the storage room on the west side of the mill when he first saw the flames. He ran to the home of C. A. Vogel, just west of the mill, and while pounding on the door, yelled, "The mill is on fire." He then hurried back to the mill to send in an alarm by telephone. A member of the Vogel family went to send in an alarm from Box 142 at Eighth and Campbell avenue.

Alarm Sent Incorrectly

The alarm was sent in hurriedly, or the box was not working right, for the alarm did not go in correctly at the fire stations. The East End firemen discovered the location of the fire when they looked out of the second story of the engine house. Fire Chief Bob Leedom also found out the location of the fire by looking out of his home, the alarm failing to come in correctly at his home.

The East End and Seventh street fire companies responded to the first alarm and later the Hilltop company was ordered to the scene. When it was seen that the high wind might carry the fire brands to other buildings, the New Boston fire department was called and they hurriedly responded.

When hose was attached to the fire plug at Eighth and Broadway it was found that the plug was frozen. A fire was built around it and it quickly thawed. Hose was attached to a plug at Seventh and Boundary and the big pumper stationed here sent water into five lines of hose. It was a severe test for the pumper and it stood it well.

One line was later attached to the plug at Eighth and Broadway and the New Boston firemen had their hose attached to a Broadway street plug north of Eighth. The New Boston firemen gave their attention to the rear of the building, where the corn shelter, corn crib and small storage barn were afire.

The firemen arriving at the mill found the seat of the fire on the east side just above the boiler and engine room. Within a few seconds they saw the fire seemed to spread to all sections of the mill, flames breaking out on the south and west sides through the windows. The elevator shafts of tin, which reached from floor to floor, formed regular chimneys through which the flames shot to the different sections of the mill.

The firemen soon had six streams of water pouring into the heart of the fire, but when it was seen that the water had little or no effect on the fire several streams were diverted to stable, hay barn and storage sheds.

The fire soon had its way onto the third floor of the mill. It burned away the supports of the roof and when the heavy slate roof fell in it went clear through to the basement, and parts of the second and third floors going down like tissue paper. The supports of these floors had been badly burned by the time the roof fell and the gave away under the weight of the roof and machinery located on upper floors.

The firemen gave considerable attention to the frame storage shed on the west side of the mill. The shed was filled with flour and meal. A frame pass way from the third floor of the mill connected with the storage shed. Part of this passage way was torn away to give the flames a chance to escape before they were drawn into the storage building by draught.

The office was located in the south-west end of the building on the first floor. This was the only place where the first floor did not give away and where the fire did not wipe out the frame work from brick walls.

The metal safe containing valuable record books, office desk, adding machine, typewriter and letter files were removed this morning. The workmen moved about very carefully for the floor in the office was very shaky and it was feared that it might give away. It not being known how badly the building is filled with water.

The east wall is cracked in several places but this morning firemen felt that they were firm and were in no danger of falling. The corn shelter, corn crib and elevator in the rear of the mill were covered with sheet metal to prevent the frame structure from catching fire from sparks but with the flames on the inside the wood work was cleaned from the sheet metal.

Several hours of fighting the flames in the cold and stiff wind and with water freezing to their hands and faces, forced firemen to give up at times. The nervousness to the fire at first warmed them through but as soon as the flames were confined to the interior of the brick structure conditions changed.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Vogel just west of the mill was thrown open to the firemen and volunteer workers. Mrs. Vogel quickly made strong coffee and while she was in her good work other neighbors came in and did heavy work in making coffee, serving it and holding the hands and faces of the firemen.

"Stogie Jack" Warden of the Seventh street company was one of the first taken to the house. He was offered a cup of coffee but did not drink it. Members of the household thought he was waiting for it to cool but when he did not answer them they noticed he was in a serious condition and tried to pour the coffee down him. He was then put to bed and his wet clothes taken off and a doctor summoned. He worked with the men and had him removed home in an ambulance.

At Gerlach of the Seventh street company stepped on a nail which went through his shoe and into his foot. The nail and board clung to his foot until some one with a pair of pliers pulled the nail out. Bob Matthews also of the Seventh street company suffered a cut hand.

Riggs of the East End Company had his half frozen hands injured by the nozzle of a hose. Chief Leedom's face and hands were almost frozen, and after being treated at the Vogel home he was sent to the East End engine house about 6:30.

Most of the firemen were back on the job after a hot breakfast. Among the women who helped care for the firemen were Mrs. Anna Leichner, Mrs. Sarah Russell, Mrs. George Foebe, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Joseph O'Leary and Mrs. R. H. Ruggles.

Drs. J. N. Eliott and T. G. McCormick were at the fire scene and attended several firemen.

Mrs. Vogel and son Harry arrived home about twenty minutes before the fire was discovered. They did not see anything wrong when they passed the mill. Both were up when night watchman Johnson came to the house and gave the alarm.

Sixteen men are thrown out of employment by the burning of the mill. In 1889 P. H. Harsha and John P. Oskey formed a partnership and

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer irritating, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, advertisement.

"RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD SOON"

"millions now living will never die"

"MARVEL NOT:—For the hour is coming in which all that are in their graves shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and shall come forth."—Jesus.

For the fulfillment of this prophecy millions have prayed and waited. Possibly you may have lost a loved one through the terrible events of the past few years, and what would you not give to greet that one again in the flesh as real and personal as before?

The resurrection of the dead is an event in the Divine program marked in prophecy and due to begin in a few years, in your lifetime: not in the mystical, darkened chamber of the spiritist, nor in some ethereal existence in the sky, but on the earth and in the literal sense which only the Scriptures are capable of describing.

Perhaps you are sceptical but you will at least be reasonable enough to hear the cogent proofs in the lecture by

MERSHON HELD TO GRAND JURY WITHOUT BAIL

The preliminary hearing of Lorin Merston, charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with an attack upon Sheriff E. E. Hickey, held before Squire George S. Morgan at the county jail Wednesday afternoon, resulted in the magistrate holding the accused for grand jury action without bond. Merston entered a plea of not guilty to the complaint.

The assault occurred at the Anthony Culp home at Dry Run, West Side, a week ago when Merston hit the sheriff over the head with a blackjack after he had been placed under arrest in connection with the alleged theft of a Packard auto found in his possession.

Anthony Culp, 67, grandfather of Merston, who was taken into custody early Wednesday on a charge of resisting an officer, was also arraigned and he was sent to the grand jury under $500 bond. Unable to furnish bail Culp was remanded to jail.

Judge Thomas has ordered the grand jury reconvened in special session next Tuesday morning to investigate the cases.

Find One Saw; Are After No. 2

After a vigorous investigation into the attempted delivery at the county jail, which lasted well after Wednesday midnight, Deputy Sheriff Frank Bennett and Warden Hickey succeeded in locating one of the steel saws used in severing the iron window grating. The instrument was found concealed in No. 1 cell, downstairs, but the officers are confident that another is still inside the prison and Thursday redoubled their efforts to locate it.

The officers spent several hours questioning the ring leaders in the plot to escape and one of them revealed the location of the one saw recovered. A close watch is being kept over the prisoners as a precaution and to prevent another attempt to escape.

House Boats Must Move On

(Ironton Register)

All family, house and house boats moored along the Ohio river between Millersport and the Scioto county line must go. This is the order of county officials, including Sheriff Demott, Probate Judge Payne and Prosecuting Attorney Edwards. The law provides that any one mooring a boat to the Ohio side must get their license from the Probate Court. Judge Payne says that none have applied to him and none need apply, and the sheriff, upon the advice of the prosecutor, is preparing to notify all boats moored along the river to move or be moved at once.

To Open Fire Clay Plant

GREENUP, Jan. 12—Much interest is manifested in the final plans for starting a large fire clay plant at the north of Coal Branch, about one mile west of Greenup.

About one year ago all the land out to a depth of 100 feet from the surface was secured for the sale of the fire clay rights and contracts have been made for furnishing this and other material for the construction of the plant.

The farmers are now receiving $1 per acre for the sale of the fire clay rights and the contractors have been made for furnishing this and other material for the construction of the plant.

Former Ironton Man Killed

The Ironton Register last night said: While uncoupling a car at cars at Summit, O., about thirty miles north of Jackson, Ohio, Clarke Gardner, formerly of Ironton, but for the past two years a resident of Wellston, was caught by the "slack" in the cars and crushed so severely that he died within a short time from the injuries.

The news of the tragedy was received by friends in Ironton and Lawrence county and a number of fellow employees of Gardner, during his service in Ironton, will attend the funeral service, to be held next Saturday, according to present plans. The wife of the deceased is critically ill now and a postponement of the obsequies was rendered necessary.

Gardner resided in Ironton about two years ago, having been employed as a brakeman on the D. T. & L. He later went to Wellston and has since been working out of Jackson.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

To Build Cottages At Camp Sherman

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 12.—It is understood that the first cottages to be built at the Sherman Camp are to be constructed from the former construction barracks buildings in section O.

These buildings were the latest buildings constructed at the camp and are in perfect condition. They are of a type that without much labor and a small expense for materials can be converted into the type of bungalow that are in vogue at the present time throughout the country. The work on this project will be started at an early date. The plans and specifications are being drawn up by the architects at the school and when the weather permits the work of moving the buildings down to the site selected will begin.

Difference Of Opinion On Rules For Disposition Of Battleships To Be Settled

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—(By the Associated Press)—A difference of opinion regarding rules for the disposition of proscribed battleships remained to be settled by the "big five" today when they resumed their final revision of the naval limitation treaty. Agreement on this point was expected without prolonged debate, however, and with the entire text of the treaty proper already virtually approved and the first of the treaty annexes, embodying a replacement chart disposal of the treaty, completed and ready for public discussion at a plenary session Saturday or Monday. To make this possible, the Japanese delegates expected to receive tomorrow Tokyo's reply to their message regarding the Pacific fortifications agreement.

Seek To Use Ships After Disarmament

On the question of rules for disposition of proscribed battleships, the proposal of the American delegation that such vessels be rendered entirely useless failed to receive yesterday the assent of Great Britain and Japan, whose delegates suggested that the ships, after being dismantled, might be used as harbor guards or training vessels. France and Italy, however, readily supported the American position that such use of the vessels would not accord with the spirit of the scrapping agreement.

While the Japanese and Chinese held another meeting today on the Shanghai question, after reaching a tentative agreement yesterday regarding withdrawal of Japanese troops within the province, plans for resumption of the general Far Eastern negotiations were being laid by members of the various delegations. Regarding China's plea for consideration of the "twenty-one demands," the prediction in Japanese quarters that this would be quickly ruled out by the Far Eastern committee appeared to be supported generally by American official opinion.

Tailors File Protest

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—(By the Associated Press)—A protest has been filed with the Senate Finance committee by the National Association of Merchant Tailors against the provision in the Faraday tariff bill which would permit residents of the United States returning from abroad to bring into the country duty free $250 worth of personal belongings purchased overseas. The association also asked that the present allowance of $100 be repealed.

Taking as a basis of calculation the number of travelers returning to the country last year and assuming that each would bring in the limit of duty free goods, the association says the government would lose the revenue approximately $22,000,000 worth of goods.

Police Kill Youth; Wound Comrade

ASHLAND, Ky., Jan. 12.—In a pitched battle, said to have ensued when local police and Chesapeake & Ohio special agents surprised a gang of robbers at work here last night, Murle DeHart, 20, of this city, was shot and instantly killed and Lloyd L. Whitley, 21, seriously wounded. Both young men are said by police to have been members of a band of seven or eight they claim to have surprised in the act of robbing the Mrs. Morse-Yale millinery store, Sixteenth street and Broadway.

Having been "tipped off" that the millinery store was to be robbed about nine o'clock, it is said, two railway special agents and four members of the police department, headed by Chief of Police Gahery, placed themselves in ambush behind rear fences and outthous in the rear of the store. According to Chief of Police Gahery, seven men participated in the attempted robbery that followed. Two of these, according to the police chief, entered the store through a rear window, while the others approached the building through a short rear yard.

Police say that when one of their number cried "halt" several of the robbers in the yard drew revolvers and opened fire in the direction of the sound. The police then opened fire, it was said, and the robbers fled, leaving two of their number where they had fallen in the alleyway. Eight or ten shots were fired by the police, it was said.

DeHart was found to be dead. Whitley, lying a short distance away, was shot through the head, but was still living and he was taken to King's Daughters hospital, where it was said his condition was serious.

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."

—BOSS WALKER, 3018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

De Valera Calls "Opposition" For Meeting

DUBLIN, January 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Leaders of the Sinn Féin faction opposing the peace treaty have been summoned for today by Eamon De Valera, deposed president of the Dail Eireann, to consider the general situation growing out of ratification of the treaty. Meanwhile, Arthur Griffith, the new president, has started the machinery of his provisional government, one of his first acts being to summon the south Ireland parliament for a meeting on Saturday for the purpose of formally passing upon the treaty. This formal ratification is specifically provided for in the act.

Mr. De Valera has stated that he will ignore the meeting on Saturday and believes his followers will do likewise.

The British authorities have begun their evacuation from Dublin castle, and King George has issued a proclamation extending amnesty to political prisoners. In addition, preparations for the withdrawal of British military forces are understood to be going forward. All these developments are construed as strengthening the position of the new Irish government.

While Griffith and his colleagues are going ahead with their plans, there is no lack of the prophets of evil, ready to emphasize the pitfalls surrounding their task, such as the Republican opposition, the technical illegality of any act of the provisional government until the treaty is formally ratified both in Ireland and in England, the alleged bitter hostility of a large section of the Irish Republican army, and similar issues.

The executive of the Cumann Na Mban, the Sinn Féin women's organization, at a meeting here last night, adopted a resolution by a vote of twenty-four to two reaffirming its allegiance to the republic and refusing to support the Anglo-Irish agreement.

Countess Markiewicz, the president, was in the chair and delegates from the country districts attended. The lounge has 5,000 members in Dublin City alone.

It has been remarked as a curious circumstance that Bonaparte and Wellington were born in the same year, and that Burns and Ross, the Scotch poets, were both born on Jan. 25; but it is more remarkable that the two greatest dramatic poets of modern Europe, Shakespeare and Cervantes, both died on the same day in the same year, April 23, 1616. It is further remarkable that Shakespeare, like the great Raphael and Sobieski, died on the anniversary of his birth.—From Fennell's Shakespeare Repository, 1858.

hit within ten feet of him; Bill's gun isn't built for such long ranges. I shot—four times."

Bill did not reply. He was thinking about those same four shots. It was incomprehensible that they should have made such an impression upon him.

"And for all that Bill hasn't got his sight back yet, we're going to start down tomorrow," Virginia went on in a gay voice. She glanced once at Bill, but she did not see the world of despair that came into his face at the thought with which she spoke. "You and I will take turns pulling the stool. And Bill will hang on the greepole. And Bill says you know the way. We're going to dash right through—camp on only two days."

That afternoon both Bill and Virginia started with amazement at the sound of tapping knuckles on the door. Harold's eyes were gleaming.

XXIV
HAROLD saw fit to answer the door himself. He threw it wide open; Virginia's startled glance could just make out two swartly faces, singularly dark and unpossessing.

"We've finished over to Yuga—been over Bald Peak way," Joe said stammeringly. "Didn't know no one was here."

"You and I will take turns pulling the stool; Bill will hang on to the greepole."

"You've got your own blankets?" "Yes, we got blankets."

"You can stay here. Oh, well, I'll have to ask this lady."

Harold seemed strangely nervous as he turned to Virginia.

"A couple of Indians, going home toward the settlement on the Yuga," he explained quickly. "They've come from over toward Bald Peak and were counting on putting up here tonight. That's the woods custom, you know—to stay at anybody's cabin. Do you think we can put 'em up?"

"Good heavens, we can't send them out on a night like this. It is awkward, though—about food."

"They've likely got their own food."

"Of course they can stay. Bill can sleep on the floor in here—you can take the two of them with you into the little cabin. It will be pretty tight work, but we can't do anything else. Bring them in."

Harold turned again to the door, and in a moment the Indians strode, talking into the candlelight.

Virginia shot them a swift glance and was instinctively repelled; but at once she recalled the evil savagery of their faces to racial traits.

Bill, sitting against the cabin wall, tried to make sense out of a confused jumble of thoughts and impressions and memories that flooded in one wave to his mind.

He had assumed at once that the two Indians were Joe and Pete, whom he had encountered when he first found Harold. Why, then, had the latter made no sign of recognition? He resolved to know the truth.

"It's Joe and Pete, isn't it?" he asked abruptly in the silence.

"Pete—Joe?" Joe answered at last, in a bewildered tone. "Don't know 'em. I'm Wolfgang. Black—his name—Jimmy Dufresne."

Except for a little lingering uneasiness, Bill was satisfied.

Virginia went on with her supper preparations, and at last the three of them drew chairs around their crude little table.

All at once Joe glanced in the stillness, and all except Bill whirled to look at him. He went to his pack and fumbled among the blankets. Then, a greedy light in his eyes, he put two dark bottles upon the table.

Virginia was suddenly deeply afraid. She looked at Bill, forgetting for the moment that in his blindness he could not see what was occurring and that in his helplessness she could not depend upon him in a crisis. She turned to Harold, hoping that he would refuse this offering at a word. And her fear increased when she saw the craving in his face.

"Have a drink," Joe invited.

Bill started, but he made no response. Harold moved toward the table.

"You're a life-saver, Wolfgang," he replied, gratefully. "It's a cold night, and I don't care if I do. Virginia, pass down the cups."

FOR

BURNS FATAL TO MANCHESTER WOMAN

Burns sustained by Miss Bessie Reed, 23, well known young woman of Manchester, Adams county, at nine o'clock this morning, when her clothing caught fire from an open grate, resulted in death about one o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Reed was cleaning the hearth in front of the grate when her clothing caught fire.

Although relatives were in the house with her, neighbors who heard her screams were the first to reach her. They sat on her and rolled her on the floor in an effort to smother the flames. Later they wrapped her in blankets, but it was too late.

The burns were all over her body. They were very deep and caused much pain, the young woman being in terrible agony the few hours she lived after the accident. Dr. W. J. Morgan of Manchester said it was the worst case of burning he had ever attended. The young woman was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed. Mr. Reed is a retired farmer.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas, bloating, nausea etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food spoils, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificial digestion is not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking a safe, all digestive aid and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismuth Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismuth Magnesia can powder or tablet form is never liquid or milk is harmful to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of antacid for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

Dr. Stevenson Dead Dr. Travis Stevenson of Winchester passed away at his home Saturday morning, January 7th.

Dr. Stevenson was recognized as one of the most accomplished physicians and surgeons of Adams county. He began the study of medicine when he was seventeen years of age, under the tutelage of Dr. L. C. Laycock, then of Dearborn, Ohio.

He attended Starling Medical College at Columbus, Ohio, in the year 1887. He was a student in the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati, and graduated from this college with high honors in March 1888. He opened an office at Youngsville, Adams county, for a short time, then returned to Albion, where he had a large and active practice until 1905, when at the solicitation of old friends and patients who recognized his ability as a physician, he removed to North Liberty, where he successfully carried on his practice for years.

A few years ago, he moved to Winchester, Ohio, where he lived at the time of his death.

He was married to Miss Mary T. Williams, shortly after he began his practice at Youngsville.

His children were born in children, 12 of whom are living and were at home when the end came. All live in home except one, who is in business at Cherry Fork, O. City, employed at Detroit, Michigan, and Preston of Hamilton, Ohio.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, January 12.—It is an old hotel noted for French cuisine and Parisienne atmosphere. In the tiny foyer stands the suave proprietor looking low. A perfume shop, reminiscent of the boulevards, flanks one side of the desk and a news stand displaying bizarre French journals the other.

It is the rendezvous for the cosmopolitan and affords an interesting study of the New Yorker seeking relief from the beat of Broadway's tumults. A single violinist in gypsy garb struts about playing "naked arica," dignity fairly crackles in its stiffness.

In one corner sits a gaily French duke, a red ribbon across the white expanse of shirt front and a heavily bandaged foot resting on a chair. He is the richest fop caring not for the morrow. Two extremely delectable girls sit opposite, drinking gray Turkish coffee, brewed at the table.

A group of young bloods, sleekly groomed, occupied another table with fair companions that they wisely refer to as "scenery." All imbued from tasks. Then the strictly proper business man who makes dining out an event, his wife carrying the formette to humble the bourgeoisie and his son referring to him as "The Governor."

A Titian haired actress with her swarthy, potbellied manager, discussing the heavy details of art. And laughing just a bit too loud. A little part was a lone young man—frankly but good naturedly out of the picture.

He wore a soft collared shirt and slightly worn but neatly pressed suit. He talked incessantly to the waiter as one who craved human contact. Across his cheek extending down into his neck, was a deep, ghastly scar, which gave to one side of his face a sardonic grin.

I heard him say: "The food here, waiter, tastes like the grub I used to get at a little place near Verdun. Nice people over there—heaped the plate high, hovered about like I was one of the family. Of course I don't belong here. I'm just a doughboy but I like it here because it reminds me of the kindness over there."

New York has had more than its share of pointless plays this season. One night last week a play ended so tamely that the puzzled crowd didn't know it was finished when the final curtain fell. They sat in silence waiting and, maybe, hoping for the finish, when a small boy in the balcony leaped over the rail and shouted: "Well, good night all."

Fate plays strange pranks! Macklyn Arbuckle is one of the clumsiest and spuriest actors on the American stage. He has an unbroken record for upholding the standards of his art. And yet, so dull is the public mind at times, that he has actually suffered in popularity this season. Of course, it is only temporary but nevertheless cruel. Somehow people believed him to be a near relative of Fatty Arbuckle. Some said a brother. He has never even met the motion picture actor.

On the East Side one finds some strange young dreamers—adolescents who walk about with ponderous volumes under their arms and ready at all times to deny the oppression of wealth. They are extremely bright in their studies and generally a year or so ahead of those their same age in school. They would be as helpless in a crisis as a cow and they really do no harm. They are only pathetic for they lose the happiest hours of youth in a self imposed fog of gloom.

Can You Beat It?
Where can a man buy a can for his knee.
Or a key to a lock of his hair?
Can your eye be called an ardentist.
Because there are pupils there?
In the crown of your head what jewels are found?
Who crosses the bridge of your nose?
Could you use in shingling the roof of your mouth
The nails on the end of your toes?
Could the crook in your elbow be sent to jail?
If so, what will he do?
How can you sharpen your shoulder blades?
I'll be darned if I know, do you?
Could you sit in the shade of the palm of your hand.
Or beat on the drum of your ear?
Does the call of your leg eat the corn on your toe?
Then why not raise corn on your ear?

Sure Thing, Now
Some years ago an engineering company, laying a railroad in the wilds, had occasion to employ a number of foreigners on grade route. In some cases, these men through their own ability or through the scarcity of more competent workers, became sub-foremen, who were instructed to take charge of their particular part of the job in case of the death or illness of their immediate superiors. It was from one of these that the company received the following telegram:
"Boss dead. What to do?"
"If you are sure he is dead, bury him. Will send another boss," wired back the company. The next day they received a second telegram from the obliging alien:
"All right, buried him. Made sure he was quite dead. Ditch him on head with shovel."
Certainly
"Where have you been?"
"To the cemetery."
"Any one dead?"
"All of them."—The Citizen.

MUM SHOULD BE THE WORD

OUR old acquaintance, Kaiser Bill, who so long maintained a silence, since 1918, that did most welcome become him, has found his voice and is saying things after the same old fashion.

To General Von Hindenburg he writes: "I recognize no mortal judge, however high, since to do so would sacrifice the honor and dignity of the German nation. It is beneath my dignity to answer the lies, slanders and calumnies charging me with the guilt of war. The truth will break out like an avalanche. God is my judge that I wanted peace. The sacrifice is too big for me, but I refuse to be tried by a league of my enemies."

Evidently misfortune and years that might have well been devoted to profound self meditation have not taught Bill anything. With him it is still Me and God. He has learned nothing of the German nation, else would he know there are millions there that would lend a hand to the rope that would hang him higher than Haman.

To be sure Bill is right at one place. He wanted peace, but it was a peace he was going to fight for and after he had licked every nation then they should come and lick his boots in peace.

'Tis silence that does most become Bill, particularly right now, which is the poorest ever to awake sleeping dogs.

THE ONE GREAT NEED

VIC DONAHAY has sent out invitations to Democrats to meet him at Columbus, this week, and discuss whether or not it is advisable he should again seek the Democratic nomination for governor.

With no desire whatsoever to pre-empt the field for him or to exclude from consideration any other worthy Democrat, who may cheer his like aspiration, it can be said without any reservation, that not only does the Democratic party, but the whole state, need a candidate for governor in the person of Donahay, or one of like views.

Donahay holds the simple and yet the only sound view, that the only way to reduce governmental burdens is to reduce governmental expenses.

Taxes can not be lessened by changing forms, or shifting their payment from one class to another.

No more can they be paid by pre-election promises of economy and retrenchment, that taken by the people at their mouth value, are never redeemed. The people of Ohio are now learning that lesson. The man now governor was mighty profuse in promises of how he was going to cut down operating expenses, as he was ardent in denouncing the extravagance of the then administration. The people elected him and then what happened. Why it is costing about twice as much to run the state today as it did under Jim Cox and the figures are still mounting.

Any sensible man knows the state can be and ought to be run for less than it is, that taxes ought to be going down, instead of up, because property valuations, on which taxes are based, are continuously being boosted.

Now Donahay knows this and he believes it. There are no frills about him. He is just a plain, average citizen, who knows what government should be and can be.

AN ADMIRABLE DISAPPOINTMENT

G OVERNOR SPROUL has confounded his enemies in his own party ranks by his appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Boise Penrose.

These enemies gloated over the assumed fact that he would either resign as governor and have himself appointed or else name some non-descript for the place, who would get out of his way when the election of a senator came on in the regular way. But Governor Sproul did neither. He chose George Wharton Pepper, a man of ability, much learning and high character, who has been quite prominent in public affairs though he has always heretofore refused to accept any office. Pepper, with the full approval of Sproul, will be a candidate to succeed himself, thus giving a complete quietus to all accusations against the latter of using the vacancy to his own preferment.

While Pepper is a rather thorough going Republican the whole country may well be pleased at his recognition, because he is in such striking contrast to the character of men Pennsylvania is perversely given to sending to the senate.

Thirty-three languages are spoken in New York. Not to mention the low, eloquent speech of a $10 bill in the hands of the head waiter of a crowded restaurant.

Sometimes we feel that we are going to have a vacation next summer if we have to strike for it; and then again we're afraid if we strike the vacation might be too long.

According to a disarmament proposition the army of Paraguay would be reduced to 1,000 men. But how many, or rather, how few, of them would be private soldiers?

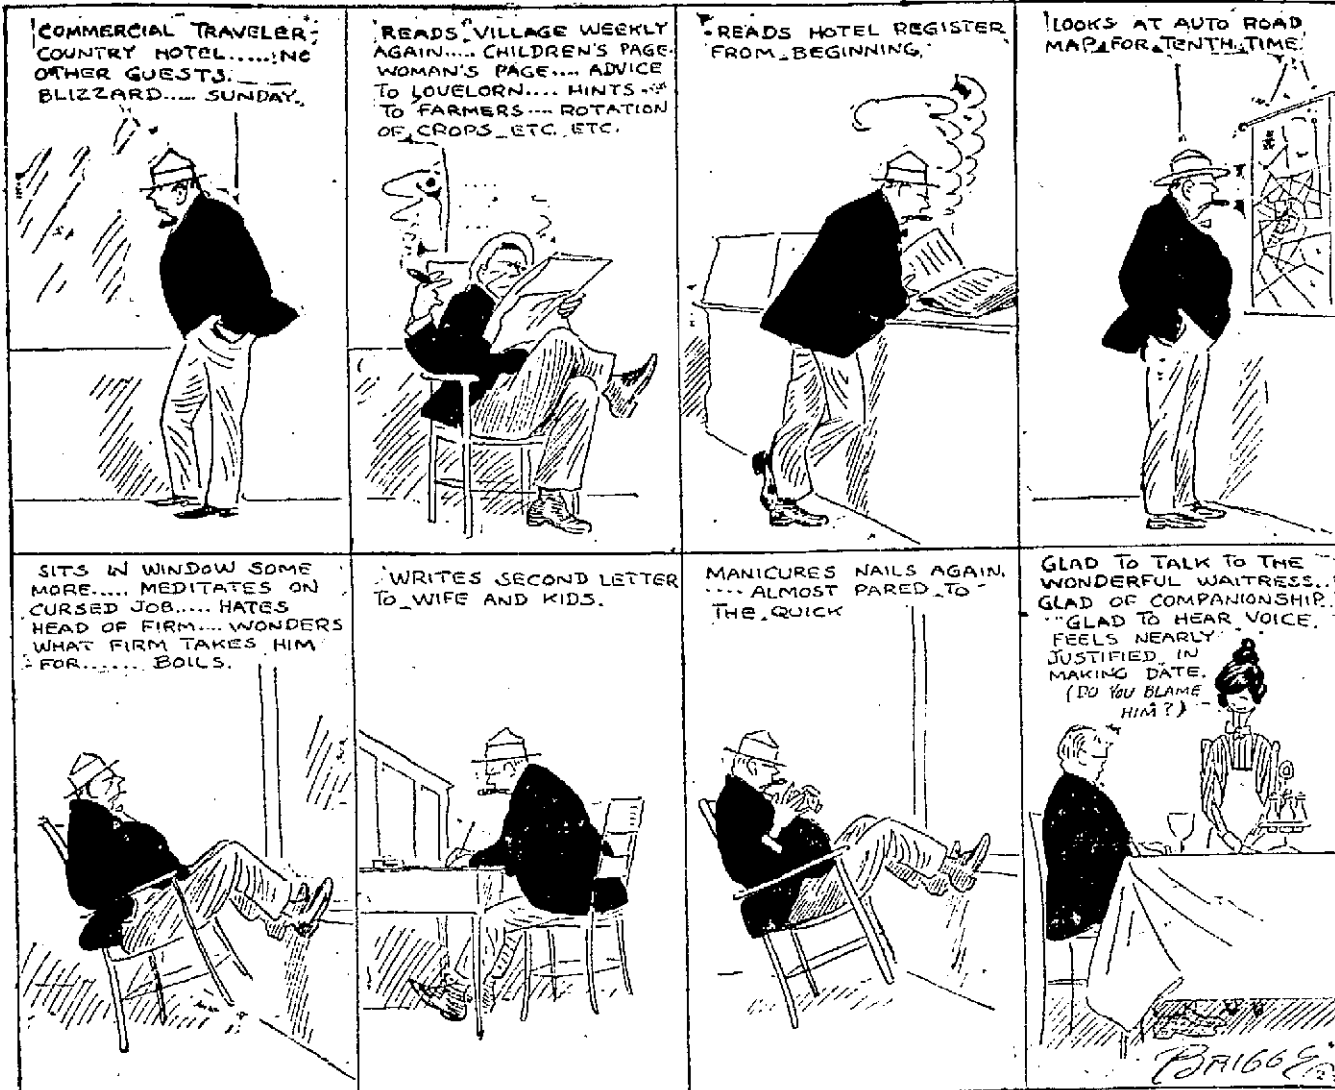

The next national compilation will be the holding out of big league stars for salary expansions while ducking Judge Landis' high fast ones close to the neck.

Mercerized Goods.

Mercerized cotton is obtained by subjecting a cotton yarn or cloth under tension to a bath of strong caustic soda. The fiber gains in strength and loses its twist, becoming highly lustrous. It takes the dye more easily than ordinary cotton, and the colors produced are better and more permanent. The process of mercerization increases the cost of manufacture, but produces a beautiful, lustrous and more durable fabric, which is often used as a substitute for linen or silk.

'Tis Foolish, Come to Think of It.
Three days out from Hongkong on the steamer Chyo Maru, bound for San Francisco, the little American had just married her new found friend, a stately English woman, into the subtle mysticisms of the gun showing agent. For a full moment the novice showed in silence, then "Fanny" she exclaimed, still obedient, "they foolish one must feel forever chewing and never swallowing!"

TEDIOUS PASTIME — OVER SUNDAY IN A COUNTRY HOTEL — BY BRIGGS

The Unterrified

A newspaper reporter had been regaled with a sensational story from a rural subscriber and was trying to seek verification.

"Is the fellow that told me this regarded as a truthful man?" he asked.
"Well," replied the next-door neighbor and best friend of the man in question, "I ain't sayin' he ain't altogether truthful, but I kin say that what happened 't' Amosus an' Sapphary ain't never affected him a mite."
